Why Not Start Living on Your Own?

The Oita National College of Technology Halls of Residence, Akeno-ryo, are open to any student who applies. Each hall is managed by a separate supervisor, who is a faculty member. All residents are fully provided with three meals a day. The catering staff are conscious of nutrition and used to cooking for international students.

Situated just opposite the campus across the street, Akeno-ryo has five halls forming an administrative complex. Hall 1 is exclusively for girls, while Halls 2 to 5 are for boys. The buildings went through refurbishment a decade ago, but still look nice and clean.

For the first 4 years, a study-bedroom is either shared by two students or occupied by one depending on the size of the room. Senior students have their own private rooms. Each hall is steam-heated, supplied with hot water, and equipped with fully automatic washing machines and driers. There is a dining hall and bathhouse on the same premises. The Accommodation Office is housed in a separate building.

Monthly fees cover meals and utility charges. Since the Girls' Hall started in 1999, there have been a very few girl students who rent accommodation off campus.

How to apply for accommodation

Any first-year student who applies will normally be allocated college accommodation. For further information, please contact the Accommodation Office by phone, fax or email.
